S.B.Civil Second Appeal No.167/2005.

LRs. Of Mangla Ram
vs.
Ram Chandra.

Date : 13.3.2007

HON'BLE MR. PRAKASH TATIA, J.

Mr. RR Nagori, for the appellant.
Mr. RK Thanvi, for the respondent.

Learned counsels for the parties submit that the matter has been settled between the parties. A written compromise has been submitted by the parties before this Court which has been duly verified by Deputy Registrar (Judicial) on 6.12.2006.

As per the agreement, it was agreed between the parties that the plaintiff/respondent will sell the property measuring 10 feet x 60 feet to the defendant and thereby the defendant shall be owner of that portion. It is also agreed that the portion measuring 20 feet x 60 feet falling in the eastern side shall remain with the plaintiff and he will be free to use that property.

In view of the above settlement between the parties, the suit itself has become infructuous.

Accordingly, the plaintiff's suit is dismissed as withdrawn and consequently, this appeal is also dismissed as having become infructuous.
